Topic: An Accident at Lunch

Last Monday at lunch time, I had my delicious lunch in my classroom. My mum prepared a box of homemade sushi for me. It was so yummy. I wanted to share one piece of sushi with Tom who was one of my good friends sitting next to me.

When I passed one piece of sushi to Tom, I spilled his bottle of milk accidentally. The spilled milk made Tom's school uniform all wet. I felt very sorry for Tom and apologized to him immediately. 'Sorry, Tom! I don't mean it. It is just an accident. Please forgive me!' I said to Tom. Tom said, 'No problem at all. It is ok. Just a little bit wet. No worries.' 'Do you have any tissues?' I said, 'Yes, I do. Here you go.' I gave Tom a packet of tissues to dry his school uniform.

After that, we shared lunch together. Tom had some of my sushi and I had some of Tom's dumplings. Sharing is caring. We had a good time at lunch time.
