Topic : A Cuisine Competition

Last week, I participated a cuisine competition. It took place in the town.

I wanted to make a roasted duck. I went to John's home to share my idea but John told me it was a very difficult dish. Then I decided to make fried chicken but Kelly had made it already. I wanted to cook fried rice but Tom had the same idea. I changed my mind again and I wanted to make some big Chinese crabs but Shirley was better at cooking than me. I wanted to make some ramen but Lily had presented it already.

I was upset because I ran out of ideas. I asked my mum to help me. She helped me to enroll the Michelin cooking class. I made a Michelin fried fish. The judge tasted the food and the food was very yummy! The judge gave me a trophy made with chicken, so my parent and I started up the restaurant and I am the chef now.
