Last Friday, The Great Dessert Competition was held by my school in the Great Dessert Home.

As a dessert lover, I was thinking about various types of dessert, such as peppermint sweets, ice-cream, apple pie, sweet dumplings and cupcakes. Most of my classmates joined the competition. They looked so excited and well-prepared. Elsa told me that she decided to make doughnuts. I was confident because I chose to make cupcakes. I am good at making cupcakes.

The judges tasted all of the desserts and announced that I won. However, all of the contestants became winners after the judges' discussion. It was because they agreed that all the desserts tasted amazing.

Finally, everyone got a prize – a mini chocolate cake. Hurray!
