What a great day! Today was mum's birthday. I was at home with my sister, Jane. We were having a party in the evening so we had a lot to do.

In the afternoon, Jane stayed at home and I went to the supermarket to buy the things that we needed.

'Have you done the shopping yet?' asked Jane.

'I've bought some snacks. Have you written the birthday card yet?' I said.

'No, I have not. I will write it soon,' replied Jane.

In the evening, we had a big party. Jane gave mum the birthday card. Mum was happy.

'Oh no! I forgot to buy the birthday cake.' I said.

'It's okay, Jake,' Dad said. 'Let's go to a café and buy a cake.'

In the end, we ate a big cake in the café. We were very happy.
