Today is Christmas day. I want to buy a Christmas gift for myself so I went to the toy shop with my dad and mum.

In the Toy Shop, there were many toys, like rocket ships and toy rabbits. However, the one I liked the most was a teddy bear, so I asked the salesperson to help me get it. The salesperson couldn't hear me because he was playing with his phone.

When I tried to say it louder, the salesperson shouted 'This is your toy! Don't bother me! OK!' My dad and mum were surprised. My mum replied, 'Can you speak politely? You were rude!'

After that, the salesperson felt guilty so he whispered, 'I am sorry about what I said. Can you forgive me?' I replied, 'Of course!' Then, the salesperson gave me some candy and wished me a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.
