Advice on Future Career

Dear Cyrus,

I want to give you some advice about what you can be when you grow up.

You can be a flight attendant when you grow up because you are good at languages, you can speak more than three languages and you are kind to everyone. You need to know even more languages to make your dream come true.

You can also be an athlete when you grow up because you are good at sports and you are handsome and tall. You need to do a lot of training to become an athlete.

I hope your hard work pays off and all your dreams will come true.

Yours,

Kenny
