

Be Good to Our Friends

One day, while Tina, Jenny and their classmates were drawing in the Art lesson, Tina was curious about Jenny's picture so she peeked at Jenny's picture. Then, she laughed and said, 'Your picture is ugly!' Some classmates also teased at Jenny. They were mean to her and made fun of her. Then, Jenny was very mad and she crossed her arms because everyone was mean to her.

Jenny was so furious that she suddenly yelled at Tina, 'I hate you, Tina!' Jenny wanted to grab and crumple Tina's picture. Tina was scared to death. She felt sorry to Jenny.

Then, The Art teacher, Miss Bernice, walked in and asked, 'What's going on in here?' Jenny explained that Tina and other classmates laughed at her picture. Miss Bernice looked at everyone's picture and said, 'We shouldn't be mean to one another because we will hurt others' feelings.' Miss Bernice also told the students that everyone's picture was unique because everyone used their own techniques and talents. Tina said, 'I am sorry. I thought that would make everybody laugh.' Jenny forgave Tina and they became best friends forever.
