

The Day When Our Mum was Sick

Yesterday afternoon, John and his sister, Daisy went home after school. 'Mum, we are back!' John opened the door and said. 'I am here,' his mum said weakly. John and Daisy found their mum was lying on the bed. She looked very pale and sick. 'I got a fever. John, take care of your sister,' his mum said. John and Daisy were worried. They went to the kitchen to get some ice and a towel to their mum.

After that, they went to their extremely gigantic kitchen to find some food that they could cook. They could not find anything in the fridge. They could just find two big cartons of milk and a jar of grapes so they felt disappointed.

Then, they found two packets of instant noodles in the food storage. They only knew how to heat the water but they didn't know how to put the instant noodles into the pot and cook them. They were frustrated.

Finally, they had an idea. It was to call for food delivery from Foodpanda. They chose some salmon sushi, hamburgers and pizza. When the delivery man came, they asked their mum to give the money to the man. Their mum saw that they bought her favourite food. She felt a bit angry but also a bit touched. What a satisfying day!
